Service Officers seeking Court redressal

1787. DR. RANBIR SINGH: Will the PRIME MINISTER be pleased to state:

(a) whether it is a fact that more and more number of senior officers in the armed forces are approaching the courts complaining of non-promotion to higher ranks because of the selection procedures and high handedness of the selection boards;

(b) if so, the number of service officers who have approached the courts in the last three years and the outcome thereof and the steps taken by Government to check such happenings;

(c) whether it is also a fact that the service officers have been also approaching the courts on other service matters; and

(d) if so, what action has been taken by Government to review the matters to check such resentments and boost the morale of the forces?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF DEFENCE (DEPARTMENT OF DEFENCE) (SHRI MALLIKARJUN): (a) to (d) Some senior officers in the Armed Forces have approached the Courts complaining againt their non-promotion to higher ranks. The number of Service Officers who approached the Courts in this regard during last 3 years is:—

Army	—20
Navy	— 5
Air Force	— 6

Service Officers have also approached the Courts on other Service matters.

Keeping in view the strength of the officer cadre in the Armed Forces, the number of officers who have approached the Courts on various counts is negligible. Most of the Court Cases have gone in favour of the Government.

Adequate remedies already exist for seeking redressal of grievances relating to Service matters. The Armed Forces Officers can submit non-Statutory Complaint to the respective Chiefs and the Statutory Complaint to the Central Government for seeking redressal of their grievances in such matters. These Complaints are examined thoroughly and wherever permissible, relief is granted.
